Conservatives Maintain Lead

Toronto, June 24th – In a random sampling of public opinion taken by The Forum Poll™ among 1539 Canadian voters, amongst those decided and leaning, a third (35%) say they would support the Conservatives if an election were held today, unchanged from the beginning of the month (June 1st: 34%).

3 in 10 (29%) say they would support the Liberals, unchanged from the beginning of the month (June 1st: 30%).

About one-sixth say they would support the NDP (13%) or Greens (12%).

About 1 in 20 (5%) say they would support the BQ, while a similar proportion would support the PPC (4%). Few (2%) are supporting another party.

If these results were projected into seats, we expect a Conservative minority government of 150 seats, with the Liberals securing 135.

The NDP would win 32, the BQ would win 16, and the Greens would win 5.

“The Federal horserace is stable right now, with little changing between the beginning and middle of June,” said Dr. Lorne Bozinoff, President of Forum Research. “What might be giving the Liberal campaign team nightmares is the strength of the Greens and NDP; modest movement to those parties from the Liberals could allow the Conservatives to steal seats in close races. The BQ is also a factor, given how important Québec is to the Liberals. Seeing even 1- or 2-point increases for these opponents could really hurt Liberal fortunes.”

Methodology

The Forum Poll™ was conducted by Forum Research with the results based on an interactive voice response telephone survey of 1539 randomly selected Canadians across the country. The poll was conducted from June 21st-23rd, 2019.

Results based on the total sample are considered accurate +/- 3%, 19 times out of 20, measured as the average deviation across all response categories. Subsample results will be less accurate. Margins of error for subsample (such as age, gender) results are available at www.forumresearch.com/samplestim.asp

Where appropriate, the data has been statistically weighted by age, region, and other variables to ensure that the sample reflects the actual population according to the latest Census data.

This research is not necessarily predictive of future outcomes, but rather, captures opinion at one point in time. Forum Research conducted this poll as a public service and to demonstrate our survey research capabilities. Forum houses its poll results in the Data Library of the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto.

With offices across Canada and around the world, 100% Canadian-owned Forum Research is one of the country's leading survey research firms. This Forum Poll™ and other polls may be found at Forum's poll archive at forumpoll.com.

Top2/Btm2 (or 3 or 4 where applicable) refers to the combined results of the most answered positive and negative responses:
