"Jagmeet Singh's popularity is surging and the NDP is finally benefitting from it," said Dr. Lorne Bozinoff, President of Forum Research. "With four days to go before Canadians cast their ballots the NDP are peaking at the right time. If these numbers hold through voting day, Singh's coalition gambit may prove prescient; more electoral reality than campaign spin."

Methodology

The Forum Poll™ was conducted by Forum Research with the results based on an interactive voice response telephone survey of 1028 randomly selected Canadians across the country. The poll was conducted Oct 16 from 3:30-10:15 pm (Eastern time, respecting time zones)

Results based on the total sample are considered accurate +/- 3%, 19 times out of 20, measured as the average deviation across all response categories. Subsample results will be less accurate. Margins of error for subsample (such as age, gender) results are available at www.forumresearch.com/samplestim.asp

Where appropriate, the data has been statistically weighted by age, region, and other variables to ensure that the sample reflects the actual population according to the latest Census data. 125,944 Canadians were contacted for this poll. 61 identified themselves as non-voters and were ineligible to participate.

This research is not necessarily predictive of future outcomes, but rather, captures opinion at one point in time. Actual results depend on the parties' ability to get their voters out. Forum Research conducted this poll as a public service and to demonstrate our survey research capabilities. Forum houses its poll results in the Data Library of the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto.

With offices across Canada and around the world, 100% Canadian-owned Forum Research is one of the country's leading survey research firms. This Forum Poll™ and other polls may be found at Forum's poll archive at forumpoll.com.

Top2/Btm2 (or 3 or 4 where applicable) refers to the combined results of the most answered positive and negative responses:
